- ◆ Approximately 50 AI agents already operated internally across research, product and operations.

PARIS, 15 SEPTEMBER 2026

PYRATZ CORP. (Euronext Access Paris: MLPTZ; ISIN FR0013371507) today announces the launch of Agentic Hub, a portfolio of AI products and agentic services developed in-house to solve recurring operational needs across its investment activities and portfolio companies, and now being made available to entrepreneurs and companies outside the Pyratz ecosystem.

Agentic Hub is the external-facing extension of Pyratz's internal Software Factory: a portfolio of AI products and agentic services built by operators to support company creation, funding, visibility and distribution. The suite is meant to empower all kinds of entrepreneurs with the tools they need to test and grow their ideas. Each product begins with a concrete need identified through Pyratz's own operations, is tested in real workflows, and is considered for external release once it has demonstrated practical value.

Built by operators. Proven inside the portfolio. Productized for the market.

Pyratz currently operates approximately 50 AI agents internally. The system mirrors parts of the firm's human organization across research, product development and operations, while keeping people responsible for judgment, approval and final decisions.

Six products, one operating model

Agentic Hub launches with six products and agentic services, including MrChief.ai as its flagship AI agents marketplace. Each one maps to a stage of the company-building journey - funding, building, launching, growing.

MrChief.aiAI agents marketplaceMRCHIEF.AI

MrChief.ai gives founders and operators access to a team of specialized AI agents through messaging apps, as if you were talking with a real human co-worker. Designed to move beyond answering questions, it executes delegated work across the full span of personal and professional life. Any existing LLM subscription can be plugged in.

Public Grants MCPPublic fundingGRANTS.MRCHIEF.AI

Public Grants MCP helps founders identify relevant public funding programmes - CIR/CII and much more - and prepare applications more efficiently. It surfaces eligibility criteria and deadlines, supports application drafting, and connects directly to Claude and other MCP-compatible clients.

CodeVoucher

AI-generated code assurance

CODE-VOUCHER.PYRATZ.COM

CodeVoucher helps teams ship AI-generated code with greater confidence. It applies specialized agent loops across code quality, security and quality assurance, giving human reviewers structured evidence before code reaches production. It was developed to address a growing operational challenge: as AI accelerates software creation, engineering teams need equally capable systems to review what is produced - otherwise technical debt erodes the user experience.

Echo

SEO and AEO optimization

ECHO.PYRATZ.COM

Echo helps companies improve how they appear in traditional search results and in answers generated by AI assistants. It audits search and answer-engine visibility, produces actionable briefs and content, and tracks performance over time. A free site audit is available at echo.pyratz.com.

Rainmaker

Agentic outreach - email and LinkedIn

RAINMAKER.PYRATZ.COM

Rainmaker supports the full B2B lifecycle. From a website or a PDF, the product automatically handles ICP definition, lead sourcing, outreach sequencing and follow-ups until the meeting is booked. It researches each prospect before drafting a message, adapts sequences based on replies, and keeps a human approval step before any communication is sent.

Adsgroom

Agentic ad campaigns - Meta and Google

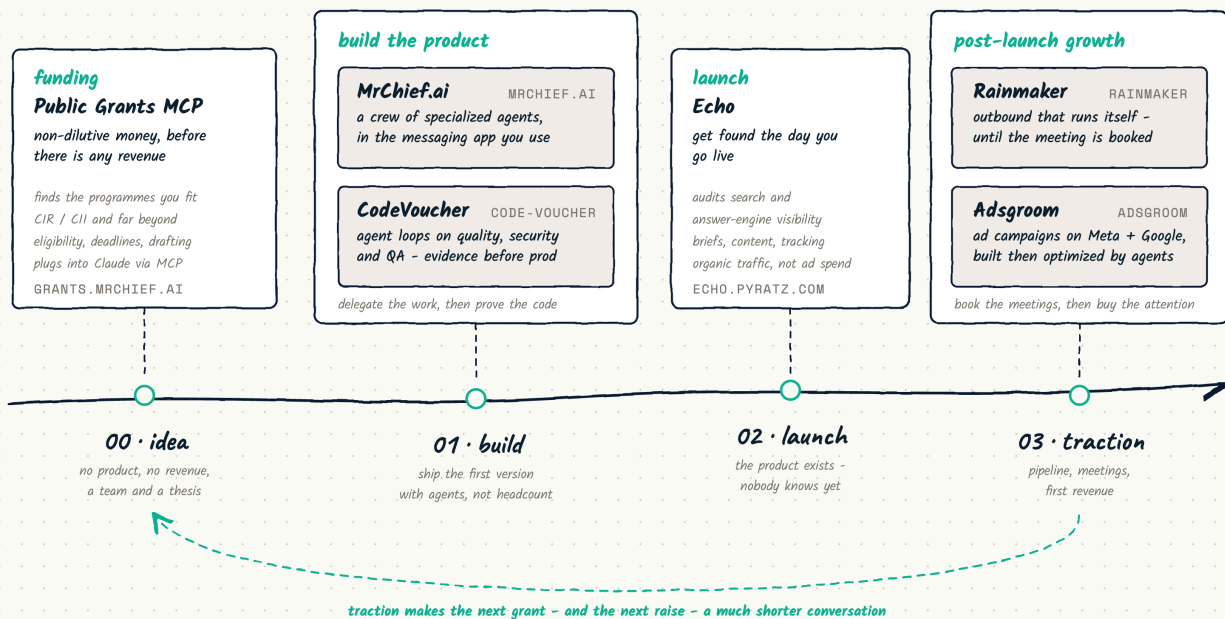

ADSGROOM

Adsgroom creates and optimizes paid acquisition campaigns across Meta Ads and Google Ads. Agents build the campaign structure, audiences and creatives, then monitor performance and adjust budgets and targeting continuously - turning paid media into a managed loop rather than a weekly manual chore.

Agentic Hub - one product at every stage of the journey

"We built these tools because we needed them - not because we set out to sell software. Using them inside Pyratz shows us where they create value, where they fail, and where human judgment remains essential. Agentic Hub is how we make the products that earn their place available to entrepreneurs beyond our own portfolio."

Bilal El Alamy - Founder and Chief Executive Officer of Pyratz Corp.

The launch marks the next stage of Pyratz's operating model: turning selected internal capabilities into standalone products that can serve a broader market, while continuing to support the firm's portfolio companies.
